Items, General and Personal, Of Interest to G. P. O. Workers

Carroll Institute Hall on Thursday evening last was filled to overflowing, the occasion being the annual reunion and dance of the New York State Club. and the audience could well have been taken as a gathering of the employes of the Government Printing Office and the Bureau of Engraving and Printing and their families, as nine-tenths of those in attendance were of that class. William C. Connor, of the bindery, president of the club, presided, and Dr. James R. Armstrong, of the proofroom, acted as chairman of the committee of arrangements, which was composed of such wellknown office and bureau people as A. H. King, William E. Gallagher, Fred E. Weber, H. J. Gaylor, Philip Nachman, W. H. Bailey, Fred E. Johnson, and others. Senator Chauncey Depew made the address of the evening, and Representatives Bennet, Young, and Millington also favored the club with interesting speeches. The tribute paid the late Hon. James B. Perkins by President Connor was very impressive and in good taste. The musical numbers comprised solos by Miss Deborah Hickman, Arthur Middleton, and William G. Atherholt, several fine selections by the Nordica Mandolin and Guitar Sextet, and patriotic airs by the orchestra. Dancing concluded the most enjoyable and successful evening's entertainment ever promoted by the Empire State people resident in Washington. Public Printer Donnelly was one of the guests, as were President Belair, of the Tom Bynum, of the proofroom, will attend the convention of the Knights of Pythias, to be held at Milwaukee next August, in his capacity as a representative of the Supreme Lodge, to which he was elected for the term of four years, and will also take a run over to Minneapolis to the convention of the I. T. U. Bynum is an active and useful member of every organization to which he belongs, and he is somewhat of a joiner,

Miss Ruby Stanford, the talented young his home, 50 I street northwest. Martin Schram returned to his desk in the proofroom on Thursday last, after an

Harry Knapp, assistant foreman of the Times composing room, as correspondent for this district of the National Union furnishes a good column of news of the order monthly to the official journal, published at Toledo, Ohio.

Vice President Joe Stelle announces that he will positively not be a candidate for re-election to that office, having reached that condition of affluence where the salary is of no consideration.

James E. Brister, foreman for Donaldson & Arkiss, of Norfolk, was a visitor his many friends and looking like a fourtime winner. Jimmy says he has one of the best jobs in that town, the office being equipped with five machines and all the latest and best devices for turning out good work. The head of the firm, Filmore Donaldson, is well known for many years an employe of the job room, and Fillmore himself worked in several divisions of the office.

George Hall, of the monotype section, is $10 poorer, by reason of some one's dishonesty while changing some money last

The members of the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants' Union will each contribute one day's pay during the first week in May next to build lon and other celebrities. and equip their home for aged and dis-from the State of Delaware in 1890, under fore. Gen, Palmer's first administration. Upon the incoming of President Cleveland's first year being employed in the Interior branch. He has served in various capacities in the main office, and proved himself a thoroughly conscientious and painstaking employe. In severing his connection with the office, Mr. Allee will return to Dover, Del., where he will be in the prosperity in his new enterprise.

M. T. Green, of the Library Branch bindery, will resign April 1, to accept a position at the State printing office at Sacramento, Cal., where he was employed

Thomas G. Betts, who was killed in the horrible railroad disaster at Marshalltown, Iowa, on Monday last, in which forty-four passengers lost their lives, was a brother-in-law of Maker-up Samuel S. H. Hickman, for many years a foreman All the dew-washed flowers bend to absent for several weeks, owing to ill health. Much sympathy has been expressed by his numerous friends.

Mortimer C. Gaddis, of the document days' leave without pay.

Claude A. Pate, probationary compositor in the document section, day, has been notified of his permanent appoint- twin boys came to the office last Sunday ment. The gentleman is well known in as escort to the young lady who brought Richard S. Peed has been transferred from the plate vault section, night, to the document section, day.

Charles H. Moore, a former compositor ized by Mr. John L. Kennedy, and who Cherrydale, Va. was separated from the service in 1894, during Public Printer Benedict's administration, passed away on the 15th instant keyboard room has necessitated a return. The dull earth quivers, at his home in Bath, N. Y. Mr. Moore to the case of a number of detailed The morning star sheds its glow, was employed in the office about four operators. years, and will be kindly remembered by many of his former associates as a good in the sixty-third year of his age.

Charles Nelson, of the linotype force, has acquired an interest in a fine news-

ED. R. FRENCH.

Edward R. French was born in A'abama on the 16th day of August, 1870, but has been a resident of Washing-Bookbinders' Union; Frank Morrison, and ton since 1879. He received a common school education in the District schools, and served most of his apprenticeship in the office of his father, serving his last year, however, with the firm of Ramsey & Bisbee. He was appointed a com positor in the Government Printing Office August 15, 1889, and worked in the several divisions a number of years at the case, finally receiving a promotion as a make-up on specifications, and for the last three years has been a make-up in the monotype section, now filling that important position on the night force. Mr. French has been a member of Columbia Union since attaining his madaughter of W. W. Stanford, imposer on jority, and served several terms as chairspecifications, will be one of the chief man of the specification division. He was attractions of the Y. W. C. A. concert for six years secretary-treasurer of the next Wednesday evening in her violin Union Mutual Relief Association, and has held many positions of trust in the Sons document section, are still on the sick of Veterans' Association, and is noted for list. Charles W. Otis is again seriously ill at the thoroughness and careful attention with which he performs any duty to which he is assigned.

John McCormick's Hyattsville paper, the Maryland Reporter, is a very good and prosperous-looking publication, carrying quite a lot of Washington adver-

Jesse Clarke and Edwin Henry, of the monotype operator force, spent last Thursday viewing the sights of the Monu- | The earth entreated her, mental City.

Johnny Brown was relieved of the trials | Their clasping arms. and tribulations of the S. G. Cat. for a Her heart made answer, couple of days by a detail to the proof- The dense dull air, as 'twere a veil,

The absence of Robert E. King from Its voice amid the mourning of autum the proofroom last week was owing to As a white seabird skims the waves, the death of his aged mother, which So dawn came, with rapt soul occurred at the home of his brother in Through the gloom of night.

proof room last Monday, was assigned But where silence sits enchanted Charley Spencer, on his return to the as a copyholder at his request.

George W. Lyons, one of the very effi-Foreman Bowen's section, has been on the sick list the past week.

J. Harry Kettner, of the elevator force. is on duty again, though not entirely reclub this year, but will have a most competent successor in Will Wise, a wellknown pitcher in the days of Mike Scan- That fill the soul with memories of joy

Mrs. Margaret L. Brooks, of Mr. Bonnev's force of tabulators, has been trans. Presley Allee, a well-known clerk in the ferred to the Census Office as a clerk. binding division, resigned on Thursday Mrs. Brooks is a sister of Charles F. last, to take effect at once. Mr. Allee received an appointment as copy-holder clerkship in the Census Office once be-

Sam Gompers, jr., was at last Sunday's service and returned to Delaware. His an injured pressfeeder, and succeeded last term of service dates five years, the pretty well. Sam has not entirely recovered from his spell of typhold fever, but New and glad and beautiful is the resis able to perform his duties at the Census Office.

As a specimen of correct typography, our attention was recently called to four galleys of six-point matter set by Ed employ of the Liberty Brand Canning the only error was one punctuation mark. Sturm, of the linotype force, in which When it is taken into consideration that the matter was specification claims, the language of which is very confusing, owing to technicalities, the work of this Her sweet eyes grow soft and tender, fine operator is all the more remarkable.

> Overtime in the pressrooms, which has been the rule for the past month, was And listens to hear the song birds discontinued on Thursday last.

the reunion of the New York State Club. But radiant above her is the is the granddaughter of the late William Smile of the beaming sun; English, of the spess force, having been in the Government Printing Office and Kiss her feet. one of the most popular men who ever Dawn, thou with thy eternal youth held a card in Columbia Union.

George A. Tracy departed on Friday evening last on his return to San Francisco. Mr. Tracy is very enthusiastic in his praise of the labor element of the night section, has been granted thirty Pacific Coast, and says some of the ablest men he has ever met are enrolled in the organizations of California.

> Machinist Jim Gibson's four-year-old his dinner, and Jim had to lose two hours

Joseph W. Cheyney, a well-known The lark pours forth his rapture, downtown printer, was married Thursday last to Mrs. Caroline Rey Newell. Thou dawn! The happy couple will be at home to With the mein of her who in the old second division when foreman- their friends after April 10 at West Touched His robe;

A falling off in the current work in the Tom Elliott, the energetic and obliging The sun looks with steadfast eyes; workman and stanch union man. He was messenger of the monotype night force. All nature bursts forth into has contracted the political fever and Transcendent melody, Johnny Luitich has been elected manpaper property at Winchester, Ky., and ager of the St. Stephens baseball club, which will again be a member of the Cap- March 23, 1910.

will land St. Stephens near the top this F. W. Parker, of the night linotype force, bas purchased a Victrola and will entertain a number of his friends to-

John R. Purvis, Thomas W. Kemp, and George L. Eichborn, of the keyboard room, are spending Easter Sunday at At-date for president of the I. T. U.

The campaign for officers of Columbia Union is warming up, but the number of candidates this year will be smaller than usual, only eight being entered for delegate so far, and it looks as if that will be all the entries. The monotype section have four of these, Messrs. John O'Donnoghue, Joseph E. Goodkey, Allan R. Flowers, and Chairman Phil Nachman. John Onyun is the candidate from the proofroom, and Bob Summers, of the estimating force, completes the list of men from the G. P. O. M. L. Statler is the candidate from the newspaper field downtown, and Percy I. Lowd the choice of the book and job men. The chief interest of the campaign will undoubtedly centralize about the presidency, and the contest between Jason Waterman and F. C. Roberts promises to be one of the most hotly contested fights the members of 101 have indulged in for a number of

The Union Printers' Home property is estimated to be worth nearly $1,000,000.

Luke Ludlow, delegate from the bookbinders' union, will be the master of ceremonies of the Central Labor Union smoker at Typographical Temple to-mor-

C. T. Harding, officeman in the office of foreman of printing, is enjoying the Easter holidays at Atlantic City

Compositors Edgar J. Dwight, George Johnson, and Frank H. Jones, of the Myron E. Ferron, of the keyboard room had on exhibition at the noon hour sev eral days of last week his newly invented rotary can opener, which he has patented and is about to put on the market.

Recent correspondence received by

DAWN.

Written for The Washington Herald. And the sweet morning winds plucked At her garments, and flung around her

And like a glad singing stream lifts

From her lips there sounds no pealing triumph,

Comes a mingled strain of music The world smelleth sweet, as her door cient probationary skilled laborers in Her feet firm on the earth, with youth

From the blades of grass. The sun, glorious with happiness, kisses each flower. covered from a severe illness. Harry I, waking, behold sweet eyes turned to

A thousand jewels sparkle up to God seek me; Through the silence fragrant whispers

Born of love, born of ecstasy. All nature is bathed in glory-The trees stand fresh and green and beautiful:

Through the air comes a sigh, 'tis but Music, sweeter even than the Nocturne of the birds. Everywhere are the wide arms of love, Slow rivers steal close to shore To kiss the baby violets who waken To "goo" in their little cribs of green. urrected day.

Only light shadows linger Out of the dead cold ashes of the night; The sun bursts through the mist on the mountains,

Lifting them out of the embrace of dark-Life springs fresh, life of delight, life

Kind and calm and glad dawn stands Face to face with love, Her bosom heaves with melody, She pauses to drink of the blossom scented air. Call their loved ones to the altar. Around her raiment lingers still Miss Deborah Hickman, who sang at The breath of the zephyrs of the night;

Holding the world in thy joy, Born of beauty and illuminating hope With thy open doors and open heart; Thou, whom the angels have drawn From the mist of darkness; Thou, with thy pure white halo: Thou, who hast risen to welcome the Christ, Thy sanctuary filled with flowers For our King to cool His head Against their breasts. Thy palace More Godlike than any church or shrine. Through thy bosom comes a trembling Like that which stirs the organ In some vast cathedral, And joy rings from a thousand throats.

Lo, all thy flowers bend their heads, The lilies open to show their hearts of

The sky smiles, The trees stand like ranked angels,

The light of dawn! The stone rolled back! The glorious Christ risen! ALLIE SHARPE BALCH. ment section, from Secretary-Treasurer J. W. Hays, of the I. T. U., with reference to the scale report, is the most interesting reading lately from head-

The number of visitors to the Govern-Hyrus Terry says it was the hardest week he had since inauguration.

C. F. Gilmore, a veteran compositor of the Navy branch, is so ill at his home, 56 I street northwest, that little hope is had Tabernacle Society Festival. An entertalnment, ice cream festival, and eucher party will be given by the ladies of the Tabernacle Society of Trinity and N streets, on Wednesday of Easter William M. Reilly received the indorse- have been donated and this celebration manner, told the club of many incidents ment of more than 100 unions as a candi-jof the first anniversary of the organiza- that happened during her trip in and tion promises to be a financial success.

FAMOUS SONGS

AND THEIR HISTORY

"THE WATCH O'ER THE RHINE."

MAX SCHNECKENBURGER.

A voice resounds like thunder-peal,

Dear Fatherland, no danger thine;

'Mid dashing waves and clang of steel-

Who guards to-day my stream divine?"

Firm stand thy sons to watch the Rhine!

They stand, a hundred thousand strong,

Quick to avenge their country's wrong;

They'll guard the sacred landmark well!

Firm stand thy sons to watch the Rhine!

They swear with dauntless heart, "O Rhine,

Firm stand thy sons to watch the Rhine!

While flows one drop of German blood

Or sword remains to guard thy flood,

No foe shall tread thy sacred strand!

Firm stand thy sons to watch the Rhine!

Our hearts will guard thy stream divine

The Rhine, the Rhine, the German Rhine!

Firm stand thy sons to watch the Rhine!

"The Watch o'er the Rhine" is Schneckenburger did not write the national anthem of Germany. It his famous song for the 1870 cam-serves for the Fatherland the same paign, but there was scarcely a poet purpose as Rouget de Lisle's "The of note in Germany but wrote stir-Marseillaise" for the French people, ring lines at the outbreak of the called out by the French revolution, war of 1870, but none of them took Country, 'Tis of Thee." It had its which the German nation had al-feeling. The political unrest in Strange to say, Schneckenburger's America and later in France name was unknown to Germany at brought out a demand for rights, the time when his song sounded on for suffrage, for representation in French soil as the German battle legislative affairs, and for freedom cry. The composer was known to from the galling medieval shack- be Karl Wilhelm, to whom a worthy

This upheaval was particularly native town of Schmal-Kalden. But profound and deep-seated among the the author of the words was un-

German peoples in the early '50's, known, until Prof. Hundeshagen, when they came to realize that they the theologian, of Bonn, gave some were being ruled by a lot of weak- details about him in the Cologne ling princelets. The vigorous young Gazette in August, 1879. From him

German party started to make its it was learned that the song was voice heard, despite the fact that first sung in the months of Jan-scores of such men as Richard Wag- uary and February, 1840, at the ner and the late Carl Schurz were time when the French government.

expatriated across the frontiers be- with Thiers at its head, talked loud-cause of their supposedly seditious ly of regaining the lands up to the

Having been forbidden by the Germany by the former treaty of sions, the young men of Germany Schneckenburger was at that time took refuge in their German soci- living at Burgdorf, in the Swiss eties, where, unmolested, they sang canton of Berne, and Prof. Hundethe old songs of the Fatherland shagen heard the song recited by and such revolutionary pieces as the poet at one of the Saturday the "Marseillaise." Hand to hand evening "gesellige" meetings of the in this struggle for political free- German citizens of the place. He dom went the glad vision of a unit- says a friend of his wrote to him, ed Germany, to which, also, among "Do not fail to come to our next such advanced thinkers and mili- Saturday evening meeting. Max peror William, Prince Bismarck, magnificent song, 'Die Wacht am and Count von Moltke, was linked Rhein." On the following Saturthe dream of, at some not far dis- day the poem was read and reread, tant day, recovering the long lost somebody improvised and sang it to Rhine province from France, the a pianoforte accompaniment, and siast named Max Schneckenburger to his own account, was born on

The stanzas, five in all, were im- settled in Burgdorf, in the canton mediately set to music by an equal- of Berne, in order to establish for ly inspired composer named Karl himself there, marrying a daughter

Wilhelm. The song at once leaped of the pastor of Thalheim. He died into popular favor, and by common on May 3, 1849, when only thirty consent was adapted as the Ger- years of age. He was buried at man watch and war cry. It was Burgdorf, where a slender iron sung from Bavaria on the south to cross long marked his grave. While the Baltic on the north; from the in life, being thoroughly a German

Austrian frontier on the east to in all that he did, he frequently re-

Alsace and Lorraine on the west. quested that his body should find there his remains were removed afterward, on the 16th of July, 1886, from Switzerland in 1886. Only a was his last wish carried out and few weeks previous to that France his earthly remains carried to his had celebrated the centennial anni- native place, where they were ac-versary of the birth of the poet of companied to the grave by the peo-

"The Marseillaise" by unveiling a ple of Burgdorf and Tuttlingen and city.

monument in the natal place of the the German Verein, of the latter

(Copyright, 1910, "The Press" Company.)

many faced France in that memor- In one of his poems he sang:

When, at length, a United Ger- its final resting place in Germany.

In 1854, when the German people praise and thanks.

tary organizers as the Great Em- Schneckenburger has written

Rhine, which had been restored to the poet was overwhelmed with

Max Schneckenburger, according

February 17, 1819. He was the son of a respectable merchant. The house in which he was born is still preserved. When fifteen years old he was made an apprentice to a

Should I from this life be taken,

Far from my own Fatherland,

Let not foreign soil rest o'er me,

Bear me to my native land,

But for thee, Germania;

From Germania's sacred skies,

Let, O God, my spirit, leaving

For my heart's best hopes are living

And when I shall die, then place me

When the mists away are scattered

Then its grave, once more arise;

That it then may seen and gladden

In its country's grand array;

Wait until the Judgment Day.

But not until thirty-seven years

Quietly, then, to rest returning, acts or speeches.

hereditary enemy.

wrote a poem beginning:

Mid dashing wave and clang of steel,

were at fever heat, a young enthu-

The Rhine! The Rhine! The German Rhine!

able struggle of 1870-71, every soldier in the German legion knew it

Rhine" literally became the marching song and the battle-cry of her armies in the field. Whole battalions and divisions went into action chanting its stately measures, and the Iron Chancellor voiced it as his personal opinion that the singing of this song did as much to win vie-tories as did the German bayonets.

town of Tuttlingen, on the Danube, in Wurttemberg, a handsome monument was dedicated to the poet of "Die Wacht am Rhein." The poet had been born at the little village of Thalheim, close by, and

On June 19, 1892, in the little police to meet for political discus- peace.

and our own national anthem. "My the place of "Die Wacht am Rhein birth from the same revolutionary ready come to love so well.

While rifle rests in patriot hand-

Dear Fatherland, no danger thine;

Our oath resounds, the river flows,

In golden light our banner glows;

Dear Fatherland, no danger thine:

From heaven look down and meet their gaze;

With filial love their bosoms swell,

Dear Fatherland, no danger thine;

Be German as this breast of mine!"

Dear Fatherland, no danger thine;

The dead of a heroic race

'The Rhine, the Rhine, the German Rhine!

CLUB TO ADOPT INSIGNIA Pin of Gold to Be Worn by Excelsior Members.

The regular weekly meeting of the 22, at the residence of the president. ment Printing Office several days dur- Mrs. Muller reported the death of Mrs. ing the week was so large that additions McDowell, and a committee on resoluhad to be made to the guide force. tions, consisting of Mrs. Muller, Mrs. Baker, and Mrs. Edwards, was appointed to draft resolutions of condolence. The vacancy caused by the death of Mrs.

pended from a bar, suitably inscribed.

Mrs. Willis read an interesting paper on "The Buccaneers of the Caribbee, Miss McCreary's paper on "West Indian folk lore" was much enjoyed. Mrs. Fosparish at the school hall, Thirty-sixth ter read a fake story on "Uncle Remus by the pagans in the spring of the year. in the West Indies," and Mrs. Pepper. in week, at 8 p. m. Many valuable prizes her usual interesting and entertaining may be traced back to our Saxon ancesthrough the Andes.

CELEBRATION OF EASTER

Excelsior Club was held Tuesday, March Holiday, Traced to Pagan Origin, Ranks Next to Christmas as Festive Occasion.

By RUDOLPH DE ZAPP

McDowell was filled by the election of place beside the holly and evergreen. The club decided to adopt a club pin of come down to the present day from carried the flabelli-great fans of ostrich gold, representing an open book, sus- primitive times, Easter has been chang- feathers in which are set the eyelike eremony lasting eight days, the time conforming to the festivities observed The derivation of the term "Easter" memory of a goddess who was the per- the greatest days of the year in Rome. sonification of the East, the morning, spring, the rising. It was the invariable habit of the early Christians to give a conditions, for all sorts of unusual cere-Christian significance to the established monies take place during Holy Week.

> too strong to be rooted out. This was peculiarly easy in the case of Easter, coming, as it did, at the time procession around the chapel of the sepjoicing at the return of spring and the ing. renewing of nature. There has never The miracle of the holy fire is a celebeen any difference of opinion as to why bration in which the Greeks alone par-Easter should be celebrated, but the ticipate. The Greeks believe this miracle to have taken place during the Apostime of its observance has been the subject of much careful calculation.

.... It has been discovered that the observance of Easter dates back as far as the lieve it comes down from heaven. It is year 68 A. D., and that there was then much contention as to just when the day large sums to the priest for the privilege should be observed. It is supposed that of being first to light their tapers at the this contention did not cease until Constantine's time, when the council of Nice, the church on the evening of Good Friin the year 325, took the matter in hand day and they remain all night in the and decreed that Easter must be observed throughout the entire Christian world on the same day of the year. It fact, they remain there until Easter eve, was decided that that day should be the first Sunday after the fourteenth day of the first Jewish month, but this led to having been put out and the crowd watchsome confusion because of there being ing with bated breath for the appearance no uniform agreement regarding the of the holy fire. The patriarch finally cycle by which the day was to be regu-lated. Finally, in the year 669, the Ro-the prayers of the priests, and soon after man rule was adopted making Easter fall the holy fire, which the waiting people on the Sunday following the fourteenth firmly believe to have come from heaven, day of the calendar moon. For about nine centuries this day was observed, and priests come forth with lighted tapers then a change was made by the authorities of the English Church refusion to ties of the English Church refusing to the people to get their tapers lighted. adopt the reformation of the Gregorian The scene is one of the utmost lack of calendar in the year 1582, and it was not decorum, and it is a wonder that the old until more than a century later that the and the feeble are not injured. rule was adopted that makes Easter fall on the first Sunday after the full moon that comes on or next after the 21st day ment and pomp, have a natural tenof March. This makes Easter a movable dency to render Easter a sort of festival festival, but one that cannot come ear- preceded by great gloom. All through that will be in the year 1943.

From almost the very first observance covered with gold leaf." The exchangrecent origin. In some countries the that obtained in that part of France. ful gouvernante de Flanders became betrothed after executing this dance married life was happy because they did not break any of the eggs.

Such emperors as Theodoslus and Valentimian marked the occasion by acts of kindness, and the gates of prisons were baser sort to go free. For the great joy Easter morning, at the first sign of that these acts inspired the day was dawn, a band of trumpeters-their incalled "Dominica Gaulii," the "Lord's struments being in accord with the scrip-Day of Joy." In some places the clergy, I tural description of the general arousing in order to further increase the joy of the occasion, read from the pulpit hur or in the tower of the church and play morous stories and legends for the purmorous stories and legends for the purpose of exciting what they termed the Shortly afterward the service begins, the lifting people in chairs and throwing tion of the exercises shall be at the them in the air, and the belief that the exact time of sunrise. A few moments sun participates in the general happiness by dancing in the heavens, still tion, led by the pastor and the trumprevail in countries where Christianity peters, file out of the sanctuary and is not the principal religion.

in the different lands. One of the most beautiful is that after the Crucifixion a good and holy monk found the crown of thorns that had encircled the Master's joyous anthem. brow. The monk picked up the crown and carried it to the monastery in which GREAT CELEBRATION PLANNED. he dwelt, and he and his companions gazed on it with tear-dimmed eyes. On Order of Odd Fellows Founded Easter morning he went to the little had been placed. Upon opening the celebration of the ninety-first anniversary chapel door he found the room most del- of the I. O. O. F., of which Dr. Thomas icately and sweetly perfumed, and on J. Gates, deputy grand master of the looking about for the cause of this he local jurisdiction, is chairman, is putting discovered that the crowd had been forth its utmost efforts to make the celetransformed into a wreath of exquisite bration one long to be remembered. flowers, from which the perfume came. The order was founded in this country It may be that belief in this particular ninety-one years ago by John Wiley and legend gave rise to the profuse use of numbers in members more than a million flowers, and particularly of white flowers and a quarter persons. The order is at Easter time. The lily and the pas- divided off into jurisdictions, which consion flower have long been associated sist of one State or Territory. Each juriswith Easter.

The earliest Easter hymn of which on April 26. there is any knowledge carries us back fifteen centuries. Its author, St. Ambrose, bishop of Milan, was born not many years after the recognition of Christianity by Constantine. The first the dreadnought Florida which will be

This is the very day of God, Serene with hely light it came. In which the stream of sacred blood, Swept over the world's crime and shame. Rome is the place where Easter is Easter now receives almost as much borne from the Vatican in his magnifirecognition as Christmas, and the lily, as cent vestments. On his head is the an emblem of decoration, is taking its tiara, a very high, round cap of cloth-ofgold, surmounted by a triple crown. Like many other festival days that have long fringe of gold, and beside him are Above him is borne a canopy of silk with ed somewhat from its original character. parts of peacock feathers, supposed to The festival was once a thanksgiving signify the eyes of watchfulness of the church. The mass is celebrated with the greatest solemnity, and at its close the Pope is carried from the great altar to the balcony over the central doorway, and here he pronounces the benediction. The scene is one of great impressivetors, who called this feast "Oster," in ness and splendor, and Easter is one of Easter week in Jerusalem is a time when one may see the city under strange festivals of the pagans when they were The Church of the Holy Sepulcher is the Mecca of hundreds of devout worshipers as well as of curious sightseers. On Holy Thursday the Latins walk in ulcher, and then comes the "feet wash> tolic age. All the Greeks carry tapers, and there is a mad and unseemly scramble to be the first to light one's taper

The Russians, who are fond of amuse-

lier than the 22d of March, nor later than Lent and Passion Week the greatest the 25th of April. In the year 1818, Eas- | gloom and solemnity prevail. The theter fell on the 22d of March, but that aters are closed, and dancing and all will not happen again in this century. games are prohibited. The people spend The nearest approach to it will be in the time in going to church, and every the year 1913, when Easter Sunday will place of worship is crowded with the come on the 23d of March. Only once in piously devout. No amusements of any the present century will Easter Sunday kind are indulged in, and during the last fall as late as the 25th of April, and three days before Elaster the people abstain wholly from food of any kind. In Moscow on Easter eve of Easter, eggs have been used in some which is palace, church, and fortress way in the Easter festival. This is combined. Few lights are seen, and probably because in all ages eggs have there is little noise; the cathedral alone been regarded as not only the type, but is ablaze with splendor. No priests are also as the origin of life. In the book in attendance, but in the center of the in which are recorded the household church is a desk upon which is an open expenses of Edward I may be seen this Bible. Aged Russian peasants, young item: "450 eggs for Easter, stained and soldlers, dashing Cossacks, or old women come to the desk and read from the ing of bright-colored eggs at Easter book. As midnight approaches the time among friends is a custom of very crowd increases. All classes and all eggs have been of silver and gold, and and their wives, well-to-do merchants they have been made hollow so that they and land owners. They all stand-for could contain rich gifts of jewels. A there are no seats in Russian churchesvery old chronicle of central France and quietly await the hour of demonstragives an account of a curious custom tion. Presently the golden doors are thrown open from the holy of holies, On Easter Day 100 eggs are distributed and the archbishop appears on the high over a level place and young and merry est steps of the sitar, and with uplifted couples dance around and among the hands blesses the assembled people. eggs. If they can go through the dance When the bell on the tower of Ivan the without either of the couple breaking an Great strikes the hour of 12, there is a booming of cannons, and every worbe one of great happiness. It is said form in lines at the door of the church. that the Duke of Savoy and the beauti- Once more the archbishop appears upon the high steps of the altar and announces, "Christ is risen!" The great among the Easter eggs, and that their crowd exchange congratulations, Easter cakes are blessed in long rows, and the festival is kept up all night.

In Moravian settlements of Pennsylvania may be witnessed a quaint and opened, allowing all prisoners but the little from those of ancient days. On The ancient habit of time being so arranged that the culminabefore the sun appears, the congregamarch to the cemetery. The throng clusters at the farther end of the grounds There are many legends of Easter Day and the services are resumed. Just as the sun rises the concluding words are speken and they break into singing a Nivety-one Years Ago. The committee in charge of the coming diction has its own celebration, but always Dreadnought Launching Soon, Miss Elizabeth Fleming, of Jacksonville, Fla., has been designated as sponsor for verse, which has been translated, is as launched at the New York Navy Yard on May 12. Gov. Gilchrist, of Florida, will be unable to attend the ceremonies, owing to business which will detain him at

The first woman to obtain an air pilot's elebrated with great pomp and bril- license from the French Aero Club, Mme. liancy. At dawn of day the great can- de la Roche, was awarded it for guiding non at the castle of St. Angelo is fired, an aeroplane four times around a course, and on this day the Pope officiates in a total-distance of about twelve miles.